Ludo King follows the traditional rules and old-school look of the Ludo game. The game has evolved over the centuries to come to your mobile phone. Just like the kings and queens of India's golden age, your fate depends on the roll of the dice and your strategy effectively moving the tokens. Ludo has different names in different regions and countries such as FIA, Fia-spel (Fia the game), Le Jeu de Dada (The Game of Dada), Non t'arrabbiare, Fia med knuff (Fia with push), Cờ cá ngựa, Uckers, Griniaris, Petits Chevaux (Little Horses), Kivet nevet a végét, 1 (Barjis/Barjes). Play Kings with your family and friends. While the gameplay may seem simple at first, the game is icly enjoyable and challenging. It's fun for the whole family; You play this one for hours to try to beat your opponents and compete for the highest scores on leaderboards. How to play Ludo King: The goal of the game is very honest, Anyone who gets all four signs first to the end wins, however, each move can only be made based on the number decided by casting a six-way death, and each single sign can be removed from their home by casting one-six. In addition, the competition factor of the games is driven by the fact that while moving if Cue the pitch player in the same square as your cue, then your cue is automatically sent home and you need to roll six again. Another similar nostalgic game is in the structure of snakes and ladders. Like Ludo, he may have played this board game when he was young. Ludo King now includes this classic game as a whole new level. The goal of the game is simple: you start at 1 and you have the first one to make it to 100. However, you can only move the same number of tiles as the number you roll in death. As the name implies, the board is also littered with snakes and ladders. If you land on the same tiles as the beginning of the ladder, then you can take the ladder as a shortcut and move on top. But if you land on a snake's mouth, then you go down to its tail. A game of ups and downs, snakes and ladders has been a favorite for generations; And now you can play it too, with Ludo King. Ready to roll the dice?! Make your moves and be Ludo King. - 5-Players & 6-Players update- Play online with your 5/6 friends It's fun to play this game with friends and family during these uncertain times. This game really keeps us in touch and with all the fun we usually have when we are together. The only change this game needs is a rule. No nail should be able to enter the target unless at least one of the nailed opponents is eliminated at some point in the game. With Hey, what a point and fun in winning the game if you don't remove a peg at least from an opponent. The nail must stop moving at the goal entrance, in case the player has managed to kill at least one of the nailed opponents. Once, the player does it, then the nail has to move inside the goal. It would be great to add this feature to the game. And that's how we played as kids on the Ludo board. Thank you so much for taking the time to review & sharing your feedback with us :) Have a nice day! Let me start my platitude that I play this game more than a few times with different techniques and strategies however the game is so one-sided, I can't imagine. For example, you probably escape the house when the other player's sign reaches or is close to your home. Then as soon as you get out, the player will be directly behind you, you will be cut off and you will return home. Another model, when you want to get home (finish) and you only need 1, however it lasts forever to have that 1. However, another player with 2 tokens in the center arrives home and dominates the match. Now this game is idiotic and one-sided. Game designers need to change the whole calculation from the start and the dice gradually irregularly. I energetically suggested looking at the All-Star Ludo. Every Ludo game is superior to this game. Just tell you the game is not in light of the fact that you don't make it unbelievably successful, it's simply people like Ludo (real table game) and they need interfaces with family Live away, have a chance to play and have a lot of time. The game is assumed not to satisfy distracted people. At the off chance that I was you I was trying to change the game at every rate imaginable to make it better. However, inn each case ended after quarantine, no one is going to have a damn about the game. If the dice were random like the developer says, there are not some obvious patterns. I've been playing for a couple of weeks and it's easy to notice the game has a poorly designed algorithm. Players who are looting will have a higher chance of big numbers (5 or 6), especially than the end. A player will also have a very high chance of rolling the full number to get someone else's cue, especially if that token belongs to the leading player. Play a few games and you will notice that no game ever ends with a clear winner. The game is set up so that all players will get a lot of their cues in before it allows someone to win. At the end of the game, it's always a race for Roll 1 in order to get it the ultimate sign in. In another note, when you watch extra coin ads, most of the time the app gets in trouble, saying that there has already been an error after watching the ad. I'll give you your reward. Developers: Stop responding under people's reviews that the game is completely random. Not. This is a poor excuse for a game, and a pathetic way to increase your income. be better . do better . As a result, I have deleted the program. The developer, Gametion, indicated that the app's privacy practices may include data handling as described below.
